Art Unit: 1775

1. Restriction to one of the following inventions is required under 35 U.S.C. 121:
 - I. Claims 1-6, drawn to a waveguide, classified in class 385, subclass 129.
 - II. Claims 7-20, drawn to a method for producing waveguides, classified in class 438, subclass 619.

The inventions are distinct, each from the other because of the following reasons:

2. Inventions II and I are related as process of making and product made. The inventions are distinct if either or both of the following can be shown: (1) that the process as claimed can be used to make other and materially different product or (2) that the product as claimed can be made by another and materially different process (MPEP § 806.05(f)). In the instant case the product as claimed can be made by a different process such as by plating a desired thickness of gold layer on a substrate then laser drilling the gold layer in horizontal direction to form an air channel. The process as claimed can be used to make a different product such as a decorative artwork.
3. Because these inventions are distinct for the reasons given above and have acquired a separate status in the art as shown by their different classification, restriction for examination purposes as indicated is proper.
4. During a telephone conversation with Atty: Cynthia Mitchell on September 27th 2004 a provisional election was made with traverse to prosecute the invention of group I, claims 1-6. Affirmation of this election must be made by applicant in replying to this Office action. Claims 7-20 are withdrawn from further consideration by the examiner, 37 CFR 1.142(b), as being drawn to a non-elected invention.

Claim Rejections - 35 USC § 103

5. The following is a quotation of 35 U.S.C. 103(a) which forms the basis for all obviousness rejections set forth in this Office action:

(a) A patent may not be obtained though the invention is not identically disclosed or described as set forth in section 102 of this title, if the differences between the subject matter sought to be patented and the prior art are such that the subject matter as a whole would have been obvious at the time the invention was made to a person having ordinary skill in the art to which said subject matter pertains. Patentability shall not be negated by the manner in which the invention was made.

6. Claims 1-5 are rejected under 35 U.S.C. 103(a) as being unpatentable over Kohn et al (US 6165890).

It is noted by the Examiner that some claims are drafted in a product by process format. It is the product itself which must be new and unobvious. Unless some unexpected result is shown that occurs due to Applicant's specific process(es), different processing steps are not patentably distinguishing for claims to an article.

Kohl discloses a semiconductor structure comprised of a substrate (90), a metal layer (92), a polynorbornene polymer layer (94), a gold layer (100) and a silicon dioxide layer (102).

The metal layer (92) (ie. Cr/Au layer) is formed onto the surface of the substrate (90). The polynorbornene polymer layer (94) is formed over the metal layer (92), in a pattern. Gold is plated to the height of the polynorbornene polymer layer (94). A silicon dioxide layer (102) is coated over the gold (100) and the polynorbornene polymer layer (94) (col 16 L 40-60 & Figs. 5G-5I).

The polynorbornene polymer layer (94) is removed by heat decomposition, thus air gaps are formed between the SiO₂ layer (102), the gold layer (100) and the metal layer (92) (col 16 L 62-65 & Fig. 5J).

Art Unit: 1775

Kohl teaches the structure of the present invention but does not teach having a metal layer covering the gold metal lines (100).

In view of the prior art teaching, one skill in the art would choose a metal instead of SiO₂ layer as the top covering layer because with both top and bottom layer being same metal materials could eliminate thermal mismatch during the heating process.

Allowable Subject Matter

7. Claim 6 is objected to as being dependent upon a rejected base claim, but would be allowable if incorporate into independent claim(s).
